

the Sunflower Lanyard

The Hidden Disabilities Sunflower is the globally-recognized symbol for invisible disability. It gives the wearer the opportunity to clearly signal that they have a hidden disability and may need additional assistance, as well as time or just a little patience.

Sunflower facts:

- You do not need to disclose what your disability is to get a Sunflower lanyard.
- You don't need to explain why you are wearing the Sunflower lanyard.
- Wearing the Sunflower lanyard triggers a simple question 'How can I help you?' to focus on the support or understanding your need. Simply by wearing the Sunflower, you're letting everyone know that you might need extra help, understanding, or just more time. It does not entitle to you to any special privileges.
- You can get a Sunflower lanyard for free from Sunflower Members.

Since its launch in the UK in 2016, UK businesses from every sector have been joining the global Sunflower network - ranging from retail, travel and tourism, transport including airports, railway networks, coach and bus services and ferries, education (universities, schools and colleges), healthcare, central and local government agencies to football teams, theme parks, theatres and financial institutions.

The Sunflower has now been launched locally in Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Ireland, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the UK, the UAE and the USA. The Hidden Disabilities Sunflower is recognized in more than 327 airports in over 70 countries, and 23 airlines worldwide. In the US, the Hidden Disabilities Sunflower recognized in more than 80 airports.
